(Matthew 5:13-16)

Thought for the Week

SALT & LIGHT
Matthew 5: 13 - 16

In 1855 Edward Kimball, a Sunday school teacher in Chicago, led a 19-year old shoe-clerk to Christ. The shoe-clerk eventually became a world-famous evangelist who led thousands of people to Christ. His name was Dwight L. Moody. Moody Bible Institute in Chicago is named for him. In 1879 Moody Influenced the well-educated and cultured British theologian Frederick B. Meyer to change his preaching style and emphasis. Later on a preaching trip to America, Meyer influenced a discouraged young preacher named Wilbur Chapman to become an effective evangelist. As his work grew, he needed an assistant and hired a former baseball player with a high school education to help him. His name was Billy Sunday, and he eventually led more than a million people to Christ. In 1924, while Sunday was preaching in Charlotte, North Carolina, a prayer group was formed, that later invited another evangelist by the name of Mordecai Hamm to preach. It was while Hamm was preaching that a teenager named Billy Graham gave his life to Jesus. And Billy Graham has told more people about Jesus than anyone in history! It all started with one person, i.e. Edward Kimball, a Sunday school teacher who led a young man to Christ. (Of course, it really started before Edward Kimball—some unknown person led Kimball to Christ, and on it goes back to Jesus and the Disciples.)

Jesus is saying that we can all be Edward Kimballs! You can influence one person who influences another and somewhere down the line that person you influenced might be the next Billy Graham or Mother Teresa. You are the salt of the earth, the light of the world. You are influential—far more influential than you know!

God Bless,
David Eden
