Thought for the Week

TRUE PRAYER

Yet, again, look up dear Christian brethren, and amend your prayers from this time forth. Look on prayer no longer as a romantic fiction or as an arduous duty; look at it as a real power, as a real pleasure. When philosophers discover some latent power, they seem to have a delight to put it in action. I believe there have been many great engineers, who have designed and constructed some of the most wonderful of human works, not because they would be remunerative, but simply from a love of showing their own power to accomplish wonders. To show the world what skill could do and what man could accomplish, they have tempted companies into speculations that could never remunerate apparently, so far as I could see, in order that they might have an opportunity of displaying their genius. O Christian men, and shall a great engineer attempt great works and display his power, and will you who have a mightier power than ever was wielded by any man apart from his God—will you let that be still? Nay think of some great object, strain the sinews of your supplications for it. Let every vein of your heart be full to the brim with the rich blood of desire, and struggle, and wrestle, and tug and strive with God for it.

Charles Spurgeon

Prayer Points

- Thank God that he "will forgive their wickedness & will remember their sins no more" (Jer 31:34)
- Pray for our elders and deacons as they participate in the biblical roles God has assigned as leaders within his church
- Pray for those in our extended church family who are unwell: For Trish F, Lesley G, Ruth S, who continue to wait for results and diagnoses. Continue to pray for Elaine Rose's grandson Matt, and for the family with Matt's treatment not going well
- Pray for Matt and Uli in Vietnam, for health, safety, and travel logistics. Pray that the seeds they sow will fall on fruitful soil
- Pray for Uni Impact and their Coolum Beach Summer Beach project, starting at CBBC on Monday
