Thought for the week

Recommended Resource: The ESV Study Bible

If you want to read, study and apply the Bible for yourself, finding reliable and useful study tools is important. One of the easiest and most versatile study tools you can use is a good Study Bible, and the best and most reliable Study Bible currently available is the ESV Study Bible. It will help you put each passage in context, answer many of the questions you might have as you read, point you to other passages of Scripture to help your understanding, and make a few suggestions about how to apply it. Some of the helpful features are:

- The ESV translation: A literal translation which is good for detailed study of the text.
- Study notes: These are written by outstanding and trustworthy biblical scholars and help explain lots of the initial questions you might have as you read.
- Cross-references: One of the best things you can do as you study a passage of scripture is check other related Bible passages, which is what cross-references are for.
- Book introductions: These outline the author, date and purpose of each book, the structure and main themes, how each book fits in the big story of the Bible, and other useful info.
- Articles: One of the best features of the ESV Study Bible is the collection of theological articles, which provide short, helpful introductions on major theological topics.
- Lots of maps, charts and illustrations.

Christmas Carols - Helpers and Invites

We'll be holding our annual Christmas Carols community outreach event on Sunday Afternoon, December 6 (Activities starting at 4:30pm, Carols at 6:30pm). Put the date in your diary and start thinking about who you can invite! We need lots of volunteers to make the afternoon and evening happen, especially helping with kids activities. If you are available to help, please reply and let us know, sign up on the sheet in the foyer at church, or talk to Kathy directly.

Playgroup Coordinator – Expression of Interest

We are aiming to appoint a new Playgroup Coordinator for 2027 and beyond. This is a paid role in our church (8 hours per week), coordinating our two playgroups on Tuesday and Friday mornings. There are two parts to the role: Firstly, it involves thinking about playgroup as a ministry outreach that will help us "Know Christ and Make Him Known" in our community. Secondly, it involves organising and leading fun and safe playgroup activities to bless the kids and parents who come. If you're interested in the role or would just like more information, please contact Bill (bill.forgeard@coolumbeachbaptist.com). You can also chat with Kathy who is currently the interim playgroup coordinator to find out about the role.

Scams Impersonating Pastors

Recently, a number of scams in Australia have been impersonating pastors using stolen contact details, fake phone numbers and AI voice cloning. The scams involve contacting church members over the phone, pretending to be a pastor and asking for money or gift cards. Often the scammers will pressure people to act quickly and keep it a secret, which is a common scam giveaway. Please be aware that no pastor from our church will ever call you and ask for money. If this does happen, please hang up, and contact the church office or church leadership directly on a number you already know to report it.
